ARE SEEKING TO ENVELOP TURKS

Russians Continue Pursuit of Fleeing Enemy.

BLACK SEA FLEET ASSISTS

Slav Warships Are Steaming in Advance of the Retreating Turks, Destroying Shore Batteries, Blowing Up Bridges and in Other Ways Harassing Their Foes.

Petrograd, Feb. 21.—The Russians are pressing the advantage gained at Erzerum on both flanks. On the right, along the Black sea coast, by the co-operation of the sea and land forces, they are driving the Turks from one position after another to the east of Trebizond and it is expected that active operations against that important seaport will not be long deferred.

In the last two days the Russians have occupied Wilde (Widje) and pressed forward ten or twelve miles westward. The fleet has destroyed in succession several shore batteries which might have been of assistance to the Turks and by keeping well in advance of the land forces and by destroying bridges over several streams in the path of retreating Turks has rendered their retreat more difficult.

The fleet has been working so close to the shore that the warships have been reached by rifle fire from the Turkish troops. On the other hand, the ships have spread confusion in the ranks of the Turks by dropping shells among them.

Take One Place by Storm.

On the left flank, after the occupation of Koph, the Russians pushed on to Mush and Achlat, the latter on the north shore of Lake Van. From Koph to Mush, sixty miles over mountain roads, they fought several battles and occupied Mush by storm.

The Turks fled southward toward Diarbekr, the next objective of the Russian army. Once in possession of Diarbekr it is only a day's march to the Bagdad railway, the last remaining communication into Syria.

The rapid Russian offensive beyond Erzerum, it is believed here, makes it probable that the retreat of the Turkish corps operating along the Black sea coast, and of those troops which were active in the Mush district before the Russian occupation, will be entirely cut off and that the main Turkish armies will be surrounded.

This fate has already overtaken the Thirtieth division of the Tenth corps, which was ordered from Diu to Erzerum before the fall of the fortress.

STORM BRITISH POSITION

Germans Capture Trenches Along the Yser Canal.

Berlin, Feb. 21.—The text of the army headquarters statement follows: "On the Yser canal, north of Ypres, an English position, 650 yards long, was stormed by the Germans. All English attempts to retake the trenches by night hand grenade attacks failed. The Germans took twenty prisoners.

"South of Loos, in lively engagements, the enemy advanced to the edge of one of the German mine craters.

"North of Helbuterne, to the north of Albert, the Germans obtained a minor success in a night engagement, taking several English prisoners."

SAVED GREECE FROM WAR

Officials of Parliament Compliment King Constantine.

Athens, Feb. 21.—The officials of the chamber of deputies during an audience with King Constantine complimented the king on the fact that, acting under powers conferred on him by the constitution, he had saved the country at a most critical juncture from the horrors of war which had overtaken other small states.

They expressed the hope that he would continue to work for the preservation of the resources of the nation, so that they might be used for its best interests and thus fulfill the wishes of all those whom the Greek parliament represents.

The king returned his thanks for the laudatory expressions.

Washington, Feb. 21.—A petition asking the impeachment of Judge George A. Carpenter of the United States court at Chicago has been filed with the house judiciary committee by Representative G. H. Tinkham of Massachusetts.

Mr. Tinkham filed the petition at the request of Christopher F. Sweeney of Boston, one of his constituents, who charges Judge Carpenter with improper practice in connection with the Rock Island railroad receivership.

BRITISH NAVY NOW HAS 320,000 MEN

London, Feb. 21.—The magnitude of the work going on in the navy is shown in a letter from the admiralty to Sir Gilbert Parker, answering his inquiry in the house of commons on the number of men engaged in all branches of the navy and of naval work.

The letter states that the navy proper had 146,000 officers and men when the war broke out, which number has increased to 320,000, with the authority granted for a further increase to 350,000 officers and men, besides 67,000 naval reserves. There are also 85,000 men engaged in work at royal dock yards and other naval establishments and several times that number on admiralty work under contract and subcontract.

Thomas J. Macnamara, financial secretary of the admiralty, adds: "If asked to put the matter in a sentence, I should say that for every man in the navy, of whom there are something like 390,000, there are certainly two persons and possibly even three at work on ship construction, repairing and contributing to the general efficiency and fighting ability of the fleet."

An aggregate of more than a million persons engaged in various branches of naval work is thus shown.

GERMANY LOSING COLONIES

May Be an Object of Exchange in Concluding Peace.

London, Feb. 21.—The Stockholm Dagens Nyheter, commenting on the capture of Kamerun, according to a dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company, says:

"German East Africa is now the only remnant of the German colonial empire and there also fighting continues."

"At each new loss of colonial territory the Germans always reiterate that the question of the colonial empires of the belligerents will be decided on the battlefields of Europe."

"It is evident, therefore, that the possession of these enormous German territories, three times larger than all of European Germany, will form an object of exchange of the highest value on the conclusion of peace."

ISSUES HIS OWN PROMOTION ORDER.

Washington, Feb. 21.—As probably the first United States army officer to sign his own commission, General Scott, in his capacity as acting secretary of war, affixed his signature to the official document by which he became a major general several months ago.

TRENCHES DEVELOP DEMOCRATIC SPIRIT

New York, Feb. 21.—Twenty million men who have been living in the trenches in Europe and have developed the spirit of democracy will become restless under old restrictions after the war and wish to come to this country, declared Frederick C. Howe, United States commissioner of immigration, in an address before the National Democratic club here.

Mr. Howe said it is impossible at this time to forecast with any degree of certainty what the immigration problem will amount to after the war. Bad times abroad, he added, send people here and bad times here check the inflow.

The largest influx of immigrants, Mr. Howe pointed out, may be expected from Russia and the Balkan states, while Great Britain and Austria-Hungary also will have trouble keeping their people.

SOME UNEASINESS PREVAILS

German Ambassador at Washington May Receive a Reply From Berlin by the Middle of the Week—Austrian Answer May Not Arrive for Seven or Eight Days.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Tension is increasing in the situation between the United States and the central powers as a response is awaited from Berlin to the latest request of the American government for definite assurances regarding the conduct of submarine warfare.

There were no new developments, but in view of intimations from Teutonic diplomats and apparently significant news dispatches officials are awaiting word from Berlin with unconcealed concern.

It is possible that official indication of the attitude of the Berlin foreign office may be received Tuesday in confidential reports from Ambassador Gerard.

Officials still hope that the official advice will not conform to the indications in the press dispatches that the German government is unalterably opposed to modifying its declared intentions to sink all armed merchant ships of the entente allies without warning after Feb. 29.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, who transmitted the views of the United States to that government late Thursday night, probably will have received a reply to his dispatch before the middle of the week. Vienna hardly will be heard from for at least a week.

It is realized in official quarters that whatever policy the United States decides to pursue will have to be formulated quickly. Only eight days remain before commanders of German and Austrian submarines will begin to put their new instructions into effect, unless the central powers decide to postpone the order pending the outcome of the negotiations with the United States.

Future action will be decided upon after official information concerning the attitude of the central powers is received at the state department.

MERCHANT SHIPS MAY ARM

Secretary Lansing So Informs Austrian Charge.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Secretary of State Lansing told Baron Zwiadnek, the Austrian charge d'affaires, that the United States recognizes the right of merchant vessels to arm for defensive purposes and does not acquiesce in the new submarine policy announced by the Teutonic powers.

The notification given by the Austrian charge was the same as that given the German ambassador several days ago. Baron Zwiadnek will cable his government notifying it of the position officially announced by the United States.

TEXAS PROGRESSIVES QUIT

Executive Committee Says Party's Usefulness Has Passed.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 21.—The executive committee of the Progressive party of Southwest Texas disbanded at a meeting here after adopting resolutions declaring that the party had passed its usefulness as a distinct political organization.

The committee went on record declaring that "the Progressive party is being kept alive by a few who have been active as leaders, for the sole purpose of using the name and claim to control the vote for a trading basis at the Republican national convention when it meets in Chicago next June."

In addition, the committee condemned the administration of Cecil A. Lyon as state chairman and national committeeman.

Other resolutions attacked the administration of President Wilson as "weak, vacillating and un-American."

CARE OF THE BABY

Teething—Prepared by the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor

The baby usually cuts his first tooth when he is 6 to 8 months old, and by the end of the first year has, ordinarily 6 teeth. He should have 12 teeth at 18 months of age; 16 when he is two years old, and before the end of the third year the entire set of 20 "milk" teeth.

The process of teething in a healthy baby cannot properly be held responsible for the illness commonly attributed to it. The first half-dozen teeth rarely give the baby any pain, but as the double teeth appear there is occasionally at the same time a little disturbance, such as loss of appetite, and possibly evidences of slight indigestion, which may last for a few days. But if the disturbance is more serious than this, some other reason for it should be sought.

Teething takes place through the weaning period and during the second year, when mistakes in feeding are often made which upset the baby's digestion, even if they do not make him seriously ill. On this account it is often unjustly blamed for making the baby sick when the real reason lies in the fact that he was overfed or improperly fed, or perhaps that the weather was very hot.

It must be remembered that excessive heat aggravates any ill the baby may have, and is quite sufficient in itself to make the baby sick. It is necessary in summer, therefore, both on account of the heat and because of the disturbances connected with weaning and teething, to take great care of the baby in all respects, and especially to feed him with great caution. Directions for feeding the baby are given in a pamphlet called "Infant Care," which will be sent free to anyone who asks for it, applying to the Chief of the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.

The baby may not gain in weight during the cutting of his various double teeth, but it is not a serious matter to have the weight remain stationary for a short time. The baby will quickly regain the lost ground when he is well again, and eating his full rations.

The mother should never allow anyone to persuade her to give the baby patent medicines, such as soothing syrups to relieve the pain of teething. If they do relieve it they probably contain opium in some form which is much worse for the baby than the suffering. It is a safe rule never to give medicine of any sort to a baby, save that which is ordered by a doctor.

From the time when the double teeth make their appearance throughout life the teeth should have daily care. For the baby a very soft brush is necessary and the utmost care should be taken not to injure in any way the delicate tissues of the mouth when brushing the tiny teeth. After the baby has several teeth, the mother should see to it that no particles of solid food are left between them after the baby has eaten. If the first set of teeth is well taken care of, the second set will be healthier, and in addition the child will have been taught a good habit that will last all his life.

There is considerable variation in the time that the teeth first appear, but if the baby has no teeth by the time he is one year old, he should have medical attention to see if any disease is causing this unusual delay in the development of the teeth, or whether it is due to improper diet.

Conservation
Conservation stands sentinel over the natural resources of our country, and forbids wanton destruction of forests, mines and animal life.

Conservation multiplies the by-products of industry, and changes waste into profit. It is conservation that turns rags into miladi's dainty note paper.

It is conservation that gathers together worn out garments, discarded sheets, carpets, and similar objects which have served their useful purposes. In the General's big roofing mills, these are macerated, saturated, sterilized and beaten into pulp, which finally comes out of the rollers in one continuous sheet of clean, strong roofing felt.

It is then thoroughly saturated with the General's own blend of soft asphalt and coated with a blend of harder asphalt, which keeps the inner saturation soft and prevents the drying-out process so destructive to the ordinary roofing. This explains why

Certain-teed
Roofing

out-lasts other roofing; also why the General can safely guarantee it for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply. Experience has proved that CERTAIN-TEED will out last the period of guarantee.

The General makes one third of all the rolls of roofing made in America. Because of this enormous production, and the economics due to cheap power, modern machinery and favorably located mills, the General is able to make the best roofing at the lowest cost.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles.
There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

DO THIS FIRST—YOU!

You know, and every physician knows, that when any sickness has passed, whether it be throat trouble, organic disturbances, contagious diseases, or even a severe cold, a relapse is feared, because sickness robs the system of Nature's resistance and leaves it subject to lingering germs.

Drugs never build up a worn-out body—only food can do that, and the first thing to take after any sickness is the concentrated, blood-making oil-food in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the tissues, benefits the blood and strengthens both lungs and throat. Physicians prescribe Scott's Emulsion after sickness. Nurses everywhere advocate it. Scott's is pure medicinal food, without alcohol or drugs.

JUNIOR SYMPHONY CONCERT

First Concert of its Kind Ever Held in the City, at Library Hall Tuesday, Feb. 22

The Junior Symphony concert will be the first of its kind ever given in Brainerd at Library hall. There will be a matinee and an evening performance on Tuesday, February 22. Christmas and its attending interest, the Fourth of July and its existing thrills, birthdays, vacations and even fires, are eclipsed almost totally, for at least thirty of Brainerd's little folks will be the participants of the first concert given by the Junior Symphony orchestra.

Mothers are eager as well, arranging little dresses, hoping as only mothers can, that their children will be equal to the demands of "the event." 'Twill be a mean daddy, too, that stays away unavailably.

The concert is to be conducted in genuine symphony style, and the soloists are Georgia Drexler, Elizabeth Johnstone and Lucille O'Connor. Georgia Drexler, one of Brainerd's most accomplished little musicians, possesses a voice of exceptional quality, capable of sweet, clear tones excelled only by the birds.

Elizabeth Johnstone inherits talent for the piano and is very accomplished. Lucille O'Connor, as her name would imply, is possessed of a genuine sense of humor and her readings will add much to the program.

The concert is being given under the auspices of the Childrens Hour and the proceeds will be used in purchasing children's books for the library. The price of admission is 25c and the program is as follows:

Cotton Men Conspire to Kill

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 21.—Charging that southern cotton mill interests are conspiring to kill the child labor bill, Representative Keating of Colorado, its author, today issued a warning to the public and an appeal to "write your congressman."

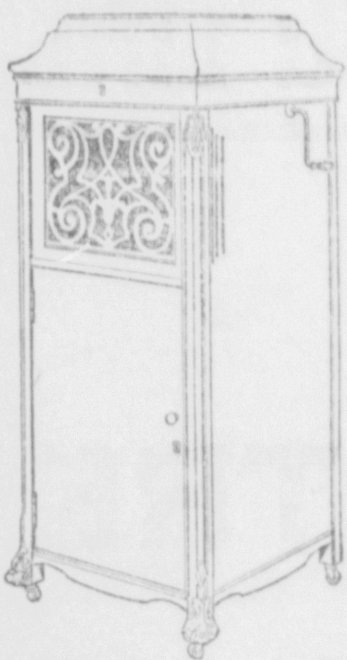

"The plan of the selfish interests is to stave off action on the bill in the Senate until it will be sidetracked by the preparedness program and put over at least until next term," said Keating. "The cotton mill interests hope to delay any action by the Senate Interstate Commerce committee, which is friendly to the legislation and reported it last session. They propose to this that the legislative committee visit the mill districts. "By holding up the bill in committee until the preparedness bills get before the Senate, they plan to have 8 or 10 southern Democratic Senators then serve warning that they will begin an endless filibuster against the preparedness measures unless the child labor bill is sidetracked for the session. It is then hoped to sacrifice the child labor bill in the interest of the preparedness program. The people should know just what this conspiracy is. They should write their congressmen and Senators. Senator Robinson of Arkansas, who is in charge of the bill in the Senate, is friendly to the measure."

Milwaukeeans Slake Thirst

(By United Press)

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 21.—Milwaukeeans have been living on home grown brew since the European war started. Although the breweries are able to turn out enough beer to satisfy their capacities, many Milwaukeeans had cultivated a taste for the foreign product. Now they must be content with the juice of the hops of their own making. Only one shipment of beer from a foreign country has been received in the city since the war started and that was from Holland. The entire shipment was purchased by one of the larger hotels and was exhausted within two days.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Secretary Lansing has sent another communication to the British foreign office asking for replies to the protest against the British mail seizure and the note asking for an application to the British trading with enemy legislation.

College Rescues American Genius

(By United Press)

Oxford, Feb. 21.—Rather than permit financial poverty to stifle the genius of the ageing and world famous composer of symphonies, Edgar Stillman Kelly, the Western College for Women here has placed him on the faculty and endowed him with a comfortable home and nothing to do but write music.

The "New England Symphony," the music in "Ben Hur," the modern music in "Macbeth," the symphonies "Gulliver" and "Aladdin" and the opera "Puritania" all are products of Kelly's pen. Emil Oberholfer, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, has called Kelly "the American Brahms." J. Walter Kramer, writing in "Musical America," referred to the "New England Symphony" as "America's most notable symphony."

In a little farm house 2 miles east of this city Kelly spent 2 years writing "New England." It cost $1,000 to publish it and it is much played but little purchased. Writing music that will live is poor business financially.

Kelly had been in Germany 9 years when the College offered him the Composition Fellowship. With his wife, herself a talented musician, Kelly now lives at the college. He is 58 and such an indefatigable worker that his wife has to watch him carefully to see that he doesn't forget that his dinner is sitting beside him.

Hard Coal Miners Meet for Battle

(By United Press)

New York, Feb. 21.—To see whether they can agree on wages and working conditions to replace those expiring April 1, representatives of hard coal mine owners and hard coal miners met here today.

The miners want 20% more wages the mine run system and better working conditions. The mine owners say their profits are not enough to warrant granting the miners' demands; and that if the demands are granted the price of coal will go up 60 cents a ton to the consumer, which will take about $23,000,000 a year more out of the consumer's pocket.

The miners reply that the war has made so much business for the coal men that they are making more money than they ever did before. Representatives of the Allies and of manufacturers in America are watching the situation closely and will do everything in their power to prevent a big coal strike and the paralyzing of business thereby.

It is not believed probable that a general miners' strike will be called, but in view of the distance apart the miners and operators seem to be on the new agreement, men in a position to know say it will be a stiff fight with a strike not altogether an impossibility.

The miners include in their demands an 8 hour day with time and a half for overtime and double time on Sundays and holidays.

Millionaire Lumberman to be Arraigned on White Slave Charge Today

Chicago, Feb. 21.—William Rufus Edwards, millionaire lumberman of St. Paul, Minn., was placed on trial in Federal Judge Landis' court here today on a white slave charge. Edwards is accused of transporting his former stenographer, Miss Ada Cox, from St. Paul to Chicago. She is a government witness. The case has been continued a dozen times. Edwards is married and has a brand new baby boy at his home. His wife has stood by him staunchly, and his trial was postponed several times before the child was born.

Most Shot up Ship in the Navy

BY ED L. KEEN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
With the Cat Squadron Somewhere on the English coast, Jan. 23, (By Mail)—"In case of a sudden call, how long would it take you to get under way?"

"Oh, not very long."
"How many of those four-inch shells do you usually carry?"
"Well, a good many."
"How rapidly can you fire that new gun?"

"That all depends, you know." Thus did the skillful sea-fighter dodge some of the multitude of questions fired at him today by his visitors. Like the British fleet itself, he is not only right on the job but he is taking no foolish chances.

It was an Admiralty house party. The Allied and neutral worlds were the guests in the persons of about forty correspondents from America, France, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Spain, besides a number from England, Australia and Canada.

Perhaps there was a German spy in our midst, despite the care exercised by the revolving chair warriors in Whitehall in selecting the party's personnel. If so, probably he learned some things, but there are a lot he would like to learn that he didn't. He surely must have been impressed right at the start with the fact that the British naval officer can be charmingly courteous without being unduly communicative, and that the British blue-jacket has been quite as well drilled in controlling his tongue as in manning the guns.

Another thing he must have learned before the day was over, if he did not know it before, was that there are no croakers among these sea-fighters. The men of the Cat Squadron are the cheeriest lot of Britishers I've met since the war started, as well as among the hardest worked. Upon the crews of these light cruisers and speedy destroyers rests a heavy responsibility. For seventeen months they have been at this job of guarding Britain from raid or invasion. Steam is always up. They are not only ready at an instant's notice to pounce upon the enemy, but they are constantly searching for him. Some part of the Cat Squadron is always prowling about the North Sea, nosing out submarines, fishing for mines, annoying Zeppelins, chasing aeroplanes, or quietly rubbering alone the German coast.

They are too busy to grumble even if they felt like it. Back in London cabinet members were resigning; labor was threatening to boycott the war; politicians generally were making a frightful fuss; the pessimists were having the time of their lives and even the dyed-in-the-wool optimists were sadly shaking their heads. But here all was peace and quiet and cheerfulness and work. We talked with men of all grades, from the youthful-looking Commodore to the veteran oiler and politics wasn't mentioned once the whole day. They had no curiosity as to what was going on at Westminster. The overturning of the government or even the abdication of the King would make no difference to them. Their work was cut out when Winston Churchill, a week before war was declared, started the Grand Fleet for the stations where it would do the most good, and they are going to keep right at the job until the finish.

This rendezvous of the Cat Squadron is one of the most important outposts of the Empire. Here, in a commodious and well-guarded harbor, are assembled practically every type of naval vessel, with the exception of Dreadnaughts. Besides swift light cruisers of the Arethusa type, and the latest 1916 model of destroyers, there is an imposing flock of "B" submarines, also mine-layers and mine-sweepers, colliers, tankers, supply ships of various kinds, airplane carriers that look like huge house-boats, drifters, and trawlers, not to mention motor boats "made in America."

It was in one of the latter that we were permitted to cruise about the harbor and finally to visit the most shot-up ship in the British navy, the Arethusa. Despite her numerous scars and patches she suffers from no internal complaint. They call her the Saucy Arethusa and she looks the part. Also her record proves it. She has been in every publicly recorded scrap in the North Sea since the war started and in several unofficial ones about which nothing is to be said. Her chief trophy is the Blucher, which she torpedoed in the Dogger Bank engagement of Jan. 24 last, then helped to fish the struggling survivors out of the water.

More interesting than the details of her up-to-date armament, her fire control system or her oil driven engines, was the snappiness of her crew. Youth has the call in the British navy these days, among both officers and men. The officers we met today average in age probably ten years younger than those in similar positions in the American navy. As an exhibition of quickness of movement it would be difficult to imagine a more inspiring spectacle than the demonstration given for our benefit of rapid firing by one of the four-inch gun crews. No one held the watch on them. That wouldn't have been good form, in the circumstances; but if the Germans can do it any faster they are entitled to crow.

Concentrated efficiency, readiness for any emergency, but above all the breezy, boyish optimism of these sea-fighters which the nervous strain of constant vigilance or the downheartedness of some of the folks back home has failed to disturb in the slightest degree—these are the impressions one cannot fail to carry away after a day spent with the Cat Squadron.

Among those who are to be asked to come to Columbus, it is said, are A. H. Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt—Advt.

ORIENTALS TO GO TO LITTLE FALLS

"Oriental Limited" Train to Leave Northern Pacific Railway Depot at 7 This Evening

200 PASSENGERS ARE GOING

Deerwood Sent a Delegation of 15 to Brainerd This Noon. Pequot Sends Some More

With three coaches, an engine and a tender, the "Oriental Limited" will pull out at 7 o'clock sharp for Little Falls, carrying the Princes of the Orient of Brainerd and their quaking candidates.

Deerwood sent down a delegation of 15 today. In the lot were several who for the last three years have tried to join the Orientals but every time the freight had whirled through Deerwood without stopping for them. Ole Erickson once had 20 rounded up in their Sunday clothes, all standing on the Deerwood depot platform. The freight said "toot, toot" and shot through without a stop. The engineer was no Oriental, for he did not catch the Oriental distress signal, neither did he hear the candidates cussing at being left in their home town.

Pequot sent a dozen candidates. Brainerd is expected to have 40 or more and Little Falls over 100. If a slight error the cost of the lunch was set at $35. The figures would be nearer $350. The Orientals have an awful appetite and a trip through the bracing air of winter will whet each man's appetite.

The United Press has heralded abroad the story of the "mysterious organization" which will meet at Little Falls and Morrison county is agog with excitement.

AT CROSBY TUESDAY

Brainerd High School Basketball Team to Play Crosby on Washington's Birthday

On Washington's birthday, tomorrow, February 22 the B. H. S. basketball quint journeys to Crosby. Crosby claims to have a fast bunch but that is yet to be seen. The Brainerd quint is none the worse for the few injuries they received in last Friday's game at Aitkin. Although they have had no real strenuous exercise since that game except the hurry to get to Saturday's banquet, possibly, still they are far from being out of training.

Next Friday the meet the fast Dunwoody team of Minneapolis. Dunwoody has met and defeated every team of their class, save Mechanic Arts. They play here on Friday night and at Bemidji on Saturday night. This game promises to be very good and will be a rare treat to the Brainerd fans who are anxious to see Brainerd in fast company again.

It is reported that Bemidji and Little Falls are hot on the war-path for Brainerd's scalp and say that they will get it. Little Falls met and defeated St. Cloud on the St. Cloud floor by a big margin and Bemidji defeated St. Cloud by a 46 to 14 score at Bemidji last Saturday.

A large body of fans is expected to accompany the Brainerdites to Crosby as it is a legal holiday and school will be dismissed. Wadena still persists that they have some claim to the championship of this district and it may be necessary to arrange for a game with them on some neutral floor.

alton Cubs 28 to 22 Last

Both teams were evenly matched.
From the minute the game was called by Wm. Steward of Royalton who referred the first half every player went into the game with his eyes

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORY TODAY

So industriously did D. F.
Stacey, janitor of the city hall, mop the floor that his mop caught on fire and business was at a standstill in the hall until the blaze was extinguished.

Stacey was counseled to use more moderation with his mop to avoid future fires and then said his pipe had leaked, dropping hot ashes on the utensil and thus causing the blaze.

PECULIAR FACTS ABOUT WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

Washington, Feb. 21.—William Jennings Bryan is the only ex-Secretary of State dead or alive, whose picture does not hang in the diplomatic reception room of the State, War and Navy build-since Bryan resigned. Portraits of all other former Secretaries have been painted and hung within a few weeks after they

HON. C. A. LINDBERGH STATES HIS POSITION

Considers Congressional Honors Conferred Upon Him Were as High as Any He Might Attain

MISREPRESENTED BY PRESS Has Not Decided to Be Candidate For Any Office—Burnquist Principles Suits Him

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—Cong.
C. A. Lindbergh today gave the United Press the following statement concerning his withdrawal from the race for Governor.

"I did not file for governor to secure position or honor. I consider the honors conferred upon me by my district, by the hearty support which has always been accorded me in my fights in congress, as high as any I might attain.

"I wanted the ear of the people of Minnesota and I filed in order to get it. One of the most difficult tasks which an official meets is to induce the public to stop long enough in its frantic strife for existence to see what the evils are and what will remedy them.

"I am convinced that the remedy is simple and that the people of Minnesota could apply it effectively if they tried. If elected governor, I intended to put forth my efforts to show the people what is wrong, and I am confident they would do the rest. I intended to issue daily bulletins, posted at the capitol and other places, setting forth the many ways in which the public is buncoed and fleeced. I cannot single handed, show the public how to do it and an aroused public can correct every political and economical evil now existing.

"The death of the late governor altered conditions. I did not know what the present governor would advocate so I went to him to find out.
The principles for which he stands and the objects which he wishes to attain, are in accord with my own.
Since he is already governor, I do not feel obligated to continue a campaign, which would prove expensive. The governor has issued a written statement that we are in accord in principles. I have withdrawn from the campaign.

"As for the future, I have not decided to run for any particular office, or, in fact, for any office at all.
I have learned from experience that the public official who is advocating true reform must expect to receive support and cooperation in his work from only a very small part of the public press. He must furnish the method and bear the expense of getting his views before the public.
During my term in public life, I have spent half of my salary in printing and distributing literature to advise the public of true economic conditions. I have never either asked nor received help in bearing this expense, but my personal finances will not permit me to increase it.

"This statement would have been given out at the time, but a certain part of the press always misrepresents me and I preferred to first let those papers have their lining. I did not withdraw until the governor stated substantially his plan of government. Another candidate did, and he was lauded to the sky by the same part of the press that seeks to belittle me. These same papers do not state the facts correctly."

ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

Mr and Mrs. G. H. Warner Host and Hostess at Dinner to Basketball Team

The Brainerd high school basketball team, Coach C. H. Kimball, football coach H. H. Killian, and the high school dopest, were royally entertained at a banquet in honor of the basketball team last Saturday night.
Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Warner as host and hostess, ably assisted by Mrs.
Chas. Nordin and Mrs. C. L. Burnett, set a banquet before the boys which will be recorded in the minds of the partakers for many years.

The banquet was served in five courses and from the gluttony of the seated warriors of the night before, it was a self-evident fact that Ait-kin did not come up to the standard of Brainerd. H. H. Killian, who last season coached the winning football team, officiated as toastmaster. A circle of lips slightly ajar and shining teeth greeted his every humorous expression. Many toasts were offered to the success of the 1915-16 Brainerd high school basketball team and all bearing directly or indirectly on giving Bemidji reason for an S. O. S. call when Brainerd makes a trip to that burg. As a final tribute the assembled warriors rose and gave nine good yells to the host, hostess and cooks. After the banquet the boys gathered and many stories went around to the tune of Baula-Boola and some other well known tune.

"BIG BERTHAS" BELCH DEATH

War Pictures at the "Best Theatre" to Show Germany on the Firing Line

Few except those who have seen actual service in a great war, particularly the gigantic conflict now raging, realize the terrible destruction of which a modern field gun is capable. Heavy walls of stone offer little more resistance than cardboard to the shells fired by the artillery of today and concrete and steel crumple and collapse as they are struck, only sand appearing to offer any real defense. You have always wanted to see these great machines of death and destruction, but have not cared to take the risk that seeing them would incur. At the Best theater Tuesday is your chance.

Imagine yourself perched on a comfortable chair set upon a hill while a battle rages in the valley below. Then you have some idea of your position of vantage in looking at the six wonderful reels of "Germany on the Firing Line". In these pictures made by the German government for its own official archives, the guns turned out by the Krupps, the "big Berthas" the 42s, and others equally formidable, can be seen "in action" on the front. So realistic are the pictures that only the report is lacking to make one believe he is on the spot where the big guns in the picture are being fired.

One hundred and six camera men, regularly enlisted in the army and under the direction of the general staff, risked their lives to take many of the pictures shown at the Best.
In taking some of the scenes photographers were wounded, as is evidenced by sudden breaking off of some of the view.

The men with the moving picture cameras frequently had to dodge bullets and shells, or falling walls. It happened on more than one occasion that while a photographer was taking some scene at the direction of a general staff officer a shell from the enemy's lines would explode within a few feet and blow camera and film to pieces.

In "Germany on the Firing Line" one can see big guns fired, and note the destruction they cause. Building and bridges are left in ruins. In snapshots of the scenes the camera has "snapped," the walls of the buildings just as they were falling.

"Germany on the Firing Line" is a birds-eye view of the war for the twelve months leading up to the fall of Warsaw. All the big features are touched on. The film, as presented, is really a chronological review from the angle of the Germans of the greatest struggle the world has ever known.

All the German celebrities are seen on the screen—the kaiser at the front, von Mackensen, von Hindenburg, Von Buelow, and other famous generals "in action." The rulers of the countries Germany is allied with and stirring scenes in which they figure, are also shown.

There has been no attempt at sensationalism. In fact, much that was sensational or gruesome, or which it was thought might offend sensitive natures, has been eliminated entirely.

"Germany on the Firing Line" is simply war as it is, chronologically arranged, but not embellished the slightest for the sake of effectiveness.
There isn't much of the dress parade and review in it, and if you care for that kind of a war film, you will be disappointed in it.

For those who want to see war as the kaiser's soldiers see it—in all its grim reality—with the long marches, the fighting in the trenches, the blood lust that fills men's eyes when they meet in hand-to-hand encounter; lying wounded on the field of battle, long wearisome days in the hospital, to emerge perhaps minus a leg, or arm, or both—"Germany on the Firing Line" portrays it in so far as the camera can.

It should not be forgotten that "Germany on the Firing Line" is part of the official war pictures which for purpose of military study were taken in great detail, and give a more intimate view of Germany's part in the great contest than would be obtainable under any other circumstances.

TALKS ON BANKING

Getting Your Money Out of the Bank —Protecting the De-positors

If the bank rendered no other service to the community than to protect its valuables it would render a useful one! but it would be a mousetrap proposition, you could only go one way; but the bank makes it easier to get money out than in, and in the outgoing process assumes risks and renders benefits too often lost sight of in the busy whirl of business.

We take many things for granted and live in a matter-of-fact age. We want our morning paper at the breakfast table with never a delay and with little thought of what it costs to collect, transmit, type, print, and deliver the news. We want our train on the dot or we get impatient.
We want our milk and our coal, blizzard or no blizzard. We likewise expect the bank to do our business smoothly, efficiently and without thought of the cost or the risks attending.

When your bank hands you a check book, it gives you license to draw as many checks, in as large or as small sums as you wish, with the only provision (except in certain cases where a minimum balance is required) that you do not overdraw, and promise to honor your checks as presented as long as your balance is sufficient to pay them.

Whether you want to pay your creditor in the next block, or a thousand miles away, the checking privilege of a bank account permits you to make your payment with ease, safety and despatch.

When you mail your check your trouble is over and the bank's has just begun, for the bank warrants to you three things, all for your own protection and at its own risk. It is well to know them.

It guarantees (a) That it will pay only the checks you have signed. If your name is forged and the bank pays the check, it cannot charge the amount to your account; (b) That it will pay only in the sum originally drawn. If one gets your check and raises the amount, making it apparently a genuine check, the bank can only charge the amount in which you originally drew the check, unless it can show you were grossly careless in so drawing that you in-

CHIROPRACTIC

In searching to find out how drugs act upon the body, Dr. Edwards has learned that the body acts best without the use of drugs. Medical literature teems with admissions that drugs kill more than they cure.

It is an old superstition that one must take a drug for every ill, but the people are gradually breaking away from it. Have you ever stopped to think, how, and in what way, drugs can cure? What intelligence is there in a bottle of medicine, or a box of pills? Compare them with nature. How can they possess the knowledge of building a cell in the human body? Can drugs mend broken or misplaced bones in your body?

I say emphatically NO. Nature alone with the aid of a competent Chiropractor can do such work. Investigate and be convinced.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

ROOSEVELT THE ONLY CHOICE

Iowa Progressives Will Go to Chicago Uninstructed.

Des Moines, Feb. 21.—Iowa Progressives will send an uninstructed delegation to the national convention of the party in Chicago in June. This was the decision of the state central committee, in session here.

It was the opinion of committee-men and others who met with them, however, that the delegates will have no thought of supporting any other man for presidential nomination than Theodore Roosevelt.

A state ticket will be brought out through the ordinary channels of the primary, the committee said.

MINNESOTA EDITORS ELEC.

Harry J. Wheelock of Fergus Falls Is President.

Minneapolis, Feb. 21.—Minnesota editors averted what promised to be a bitter fight at the closing session of their convention when Theodore Christensen persuaded the committee on resolutions to eliminate from the paragraph referring to the primary law a phrase placing the blame for the high cost of government on "the fads and fancies of unbalanced demagogues."

When the association elected Harry M. Wheelock, editor of Wheelock's Weekly, Fergus Falls, president, it followed the established order in promoting the first vice president. F. E. Hadley of the Winnebago Enterprise was chosen vice president.

Farley Dare of Walker was re-elected second vice president and A. O. Moreaux of Laverne was re-elected third vice president.

H. C. Hotaling of the Mapleton Enterprise was unanimously re-elected treasurer and the same action was taken with regard to Herman Rose of the Northfield News, secretary.
